Lou Eisenhart, attendant at Burkhard's Standard Service center, M-139 at I-94, tells her most 1971 models and about 65% of earlier cars that use regular gas can use the new fuel and help reduce lead pollution of the atmosphere. Cars that require premium gas can't use it. It costs three cents more per gallon than regular gas, but makers say that in addition to contributing to cleaner air the motorist will get doubled life from his muffler, tailpipe and sparkplugs. Similar pump installations was initiated yesterday at Bill Ehrenberg's Standard at US-33 and I-94. (Staff photo).

Seven Victims

Killer On Loose; Fear Runs Wild

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP) — Children still play outdoors in the neighborhood around Rocky Top. But their parents watch them very closely.

"Seven murders in 16 months. Sure I'm frightened," a pregnant mother said as she stood in the driveway of her small frame house watching her three children play with several neighborhood youngsters.

The house is beside the dense woods that cover part of a sparsely populated ridge. Beyond a nearby dead-end road the body of 5-year-old Jennifer Noon was found on Tuesday.

She was the seventh young person slain in a 40-mile area since May 1969.

WALKING HOME
Jennifer had disappeared in New Haven eight days earlier as she walked home from kindergarten for her noon meal. Witnesses later told police they had seen her with an unidentified man.

The area where little Jennifer's body was found is rural and densely wooded—a sparsely populated outpost in the northwestern part of the fast-growing bedroom community of Hamden, population 48,000.

The homes nearest the city are older, some colonial. But within a mile or two, hastily built single homes and garden apartments are rising, drawing many young, growing families with ties to New Haven's industry and colleges.

Jennifer's home was in New Haven, not far from Yale University, where her father, James Noon, is a student at the Yale Medical School. He and his wife Karen have three other children—two girls and a boy.

Jennifer was a pretty girl, 2½ feet tall with long brown hair and large brown eyes. She was wearing a white sweater, a plaid skirt and black shoes when she disappeared.

The shoes and the sweater were found near Whitney Avenue, a main commuter road that runs almost straight north from her neighborhood.

It is about seven miles from her home to the place where her clothes were found and a mile west from there off the main road to the wooded spot where her body was discovered.

"What would I do if I found the guy who did it?" a barber, father of two, echoed a reporter's question. "I'd hang him!"

The mysterious and violent deaths occurred within a 40-mile-long area along the south-

Whirlpool Offer

Membership Votes Sunday

Members of Local 1918 of the International Association of Machinists (IAM), will meet Sunday to vote to accept or reject Whirlpool's latest strike settlement proposal. The company is offering an 82-cent increase over three years, compared to a 76-cent increase rejected last May.

Union president Al Romeo announced today that the membership will meet at 2:30 p.m. in the Benton Harbor high school auditorium. The meeting date was set at a union stewards' council meeting last night.

Romeo said the stewards' council has gone on record recommending rejection of the company's proposal. The union has been on strike for four and one-half months, since May 11.

Whirlpool presented its "final" offer to the union negotiating committee in a meeting that began at 10 a.m. last Tuesday and ended at 2 a.m. Wednesday. Federal mediators urged the union to offer the package to membership vote.

Highlights of the offer made public today included a proposed wage increase of 34 cents per hour on signing of a contract, compared to a 26 cent increase offered last May.

The wage would be increased by 16 cents on May 7, 1971 and 16 cents on May 7, 1972. In addition, all employees would be eligible for a cost of living payment amounting to 8 cents per hour in the second year of the new contract and 8 cents in the third year.

Skilled trades employees would receive an additional 30 to 50 cents per hour wage adjustment.

Previous proposals included a 15 cents wage increase in the second and third years, a 4 cents cost of living increase the first year and an 8 cents cost of living increase the second and third years.

Other benefits in the new offer included an increase in pension benefits to $6 on signing of the contract and a $1 increase in 1972 to $7; an additional paid holiday, bringing the total to 10; improved insurance benefits; an increase of one-half of one per cent in vacation benefits as well as improvements in jury duty, funeral leave and military reserve benefits.

Company officials said the new contract offer exceeds any previous Whirlpool settlement and the employees of the local appliance manufacturing firm will continue to be among the top paid employees of the appliance industry.

Kawneer Union Will Take Vote

NILES —Striking Allied Industrial Workers Union Local 92 at Kawneer company will vote on a management proposed contract settlement during a membership meeting set for 1 p.m. Monday.

Robert Parker, union president, made the announcement after a suggestion from management that a secret ballot by the union membership be held.

The meeting will be held at the American Legion home here.

Parker said the proposal for settlement was "unsatisfactory" but that he and the bargaining committee will not stand in the way of membership to make the final decision.

Kawneer workers have been on strike since May 5. Company officials warned recently they would move some sections of its department to other plants because of the long strike.

Maurice Bishop Hired As Attitudinal Teacher

Maurice Bishop, controversial leader of the Benton Harbor branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has been hired by Tri-CAP as an attitudinal training teacher.

Mrs. Helen Ford, executive director and Virgil May, chairman of the Tri-County Community Action Program, announced the hiring Thursday.

Mrs. Ford said Bishop started teaching last Friday in the Manpower Training Development Program — an employment orientation program for the unemployed whose work records or attitudes make it difficult for them to get jobs.

Sixteen students are enrolled in the program that meets daily in the Tri-CAP offices at 720 East Main street, Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Ford said of Bishop, "He is a local businessman of proven success who can instruct and motivate the enrollees. We will give him the support and cooperation he needs to perform the task effectively."

Bishop, a member of the anti-poverty agency's board of directors, currently owns a pest control service, according to Mrs. Ford, and formerly owned and operated a barber shop in St. Joseph.

He will hold the new position until Oct. 31 when Tri-CAP's contract with the Benton Harbor schools for the program, runs out.

At that time, says Mrs. Ford, Tri-CAP will re-negotiate to sponsor the program. She said her agency would be in competition with the local State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, Michigan Employment Security Commission, and the county Department of Social Services to run the program.

Bishop is to teach enrollees proper work attitudes, verbal skills, business procedures, how to find and hold jobs and other work-related skills.

President Arrives In Madrid

Yugoslavia Visit Called Big Success

MADRID (AP) — Spaniards gave President Nixon an enthusiastic welcome today as he arrived in Franco's Spain after making the first visit by a U.S. president to Communist Yugoslavia.

Spanish radio sources estimated the size of the crowd along the motorcade route from the airport into and through the city to number about a million. A hundred mounted horsemen screened Nixon from the crowd's during the first part of the drive but a motorcycle escort replaced them about halfway and the crowd's response doubled.

'MOST ENTHUSIASTIC'
Spanish national radio described the reception as "the most enthusiastic."

Spain's leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, arrived at Madrid's Barajas Airport minutes before Nixon's plane landed. Wearing the uniform of a general in the Spanish army, Franco waited at the bottom of the ladder as the President and Mrs. Nixon got off the plane.

The two chiefs of state shook hands warmly. Franco's wife, Dona Carmen Polo, gave Nixon's wife, Pat, a bouquet of flowers decorated with the Spanish flag.

It was the second time Nixon and Franco had met. They first met in Barcelona in 1963 when the U.S. chief executive visited Spain as a private citizen.

In Belgrade three hours earlier, President Tito, Mrs. Tito and top Yugoslavian officials had accompanied the Nixons and their party to the airport and had waved goodbye as the presidential jet, Air Force One, took off into an overcast sky.

The President's airliner touched down in Madrid shortly after noon.

Nixon told Franco he was "greatly honored to be the first President to visit Spain" since President Dwight D. Eisenhower's stop here in 1959.

After the ceremonies at the airport, which were colorful and warm, the two chiefs of state drove off to Madrid in a closed limousine flanked by motorcycle outriders.

Nixon's route took him past the Plaza of Eisenhower named after the late president's visit.

EMPHASIZES MILITARY
Nixon's six-minute speech laid emphasis on military cooperation between the two countries but also stressed social and economic relations.

His and Franco's remarks on the new agreement on U.S. bases in Spain underlined the determination of both governments to carry them out by executive agreement despite U.S. Senate opposition and mild criticism of the pacts in Spain.

Before the President's visit, Communist leaflets called for demonstrations against Nixon.

Nixon entered Madrid under the tightest security in the city's history.

More than 10,000 policemen — in uniform and in plain clothes — lined the streets and the roofs along the route of the 13-mile motorcade. Infantry troops also

Pleads Guilty

Gaming Probe Scores Again

The second conviction on charges growing out of a recent grand jury probe into organized gambling in Berrien county came Thursday as Sebastian (John) DeBenedetto pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of bookmaking.

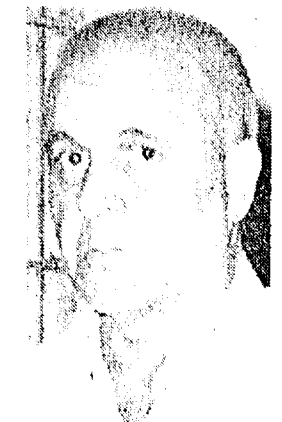

DiBenedetto, 58, of 2026 Peterson drive, Benton township, originally was charged with a two-count felony of conspiring to violate state gambling laws. That charge was dismissed on motion of Assistant Prosecutor Wilbur Schilling.

HIGH MISDEMEANOR

DiBenedetto was released on $1,000 bond, set by Judge John T. Hammond for a pre-sentence investigation, a felony pleading guilty to a high misdemeanor charge of taking bets on sporting events in various spots around Berrien county late last year and early this year.

Berrien Prosecutor Ronald J. Taylor said the reduced charge was offered in the belief DiBenedetto would be unable for health reasons to undergo trial on the felony counts. Taylor's statement was disputed by Atty. Elden Butzbaugh, Jr., counsel for DiBenedetto.

The misdemeanor carries a maximum penalty of a year imprisonment and $500 fine compared to a maximum of five years and $10,000 fine for

SO DOES GOVERNOR Welfare Departments Back State Director

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan County Social Services Association, representing welfare departments of 83 counties, has announced its support of Bernard Houston, director of the State Department of Social Welfare.

The Michigan Welfare Rights Organization has called for his ouster because of alleged cuts in welfare spending. The association also has been pressing for a special $75 clothing allowance.

Gov. William Milliken previously said he would not fire Houston and praised him as a fine and able public servant.

Road Deaths Down Again In September

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan had 106 traffic deaths in September, down 34 from the record high for the month of 230 last year, State Police report.

It was the eighth month in a row fatalities were down from the previous year.

State Police said the highway death toll for the first nine months of the year was 1,026, down 186 from the 1,212 in the same period of 1969.

A "March for Victory" (in Viet Nam) rally, organized by the Rev. Carl McIntire, will be held in Washington this Saturday.

Inside the Rev. McIntire resides the spirit of a public relations genius. It was he who organized the first "March for Victory" in Washington last April 4, with Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia as principal speaker. And it was McIntire's idea to organize a second march on Oct. 3, with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Cao Ky as the featured attraction.

Ky's no doubt reluctant decision "to postpone" his trip to the United States distressed McIntire and delighted federal officials. "We are witnessing a monstrous conspiracy reaching up to the very top levels of government and involving one of our biggest

One of the more significant actions taken in recent years to preserve what remains of endangered species of wildlife is the listing by the Interior Department of more than 300 species of fish, bird and animal life which can no longer be imported into the United States without the specific approval of the Secretary.

Included on the list are such once plentiful, now nearly extinct, creatures as the sperm whale, Asiatic cheetah, whooping crane and various varieties of monkeys, parrots and leopards.

The taboo is aimed principally at the fur and pet markets, which have been major outlets for the wildlife destroyers from several continents. The United States has been the major market for this sorry traffic.

The embargo, imposed under authority of the Endangered Species Conservation Law of 1969, has come too late to save some species, but at least hundreds of them are now guaranteed the U. S. will not be responsible for their further decline.

Medicine, in many of its treatments and techniques, is not so modern after all. Whether the contemporary practitioner cares to advertise the fact or not, witch doctors and other primitives have made rich contributions to medical science.

The National Geographic Society reminds us that witch doctoring is a disappearing art. With the encroachment of civilization into the deep recesses of Africa and the Amazon basin, new generations with new ideas are being nurtured and old tribal customs are being lost.

Medicines made from bark, nuts, leaves, roots, fruits, seeds or extracted from various animals abound in the pharmacologist's inventory. Many had their origins in primitive societies. The American Indians alone have contributed more than 50 such concoctions.

Drugs for treating tumors, pain, heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, infection and bleeding are among contributions to modern medicine inherited from ancient tribal remedies. Researchers continually try to uncover more of the secret potions before they disappear with the remaining jungle practitioners.

The world is coming unglued. That statement from a social scientist or historian might draw little more reaction than a yawn. The same conclusion might be reached by a number of contemporary observers.

It was a physicist studying the Milky Way galaxy who said it, and the glue he was referring to is the gravitational force which holds the millions of stars of our galaxy together when reported to the Third Cambridge Conference on Relativity at the Institute for Space Studies in New York, the news was received with great interest.

"This means," said one member, "that something fantastic is happening at the center of the galaxy." Another commented "The galaxy does seem to be losing its binding energy at a great rate."

How great it is depends upon one's perspective. Although a weakening of the gravitational pull could mean the sun at some point in time would spin out of the galaxy and away into space, estimates of when this might happen range into hundreds of millions of years from now.

That glue may be weakening but not rapidly enough to worry anyone at the moment.

PSYCHIATRISTS DISAGREE ABOUT HARRISON

'Matter Of Time' No 'Brick Wall', Stevensville Says

By SANDRA ENGLE
Staff Writer

Stevensville's sewer project hasn't hit a brick wall and councilmen say they won't bargain over an unsigned sewer line easement.

Speaking on behalf of the six-man village council, Conrad Stampohar, president, said the village could go through the courts to get a sewer line easement on property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. DeMorrow.

He made his statements at last night's regular village council meeting and denied that the sewer work "has hit a brick wall as stated in a headline in the Herald-Press and News-Palladium."

Stampohar referred to a Sept. 26 newspaper account on a trade proposed by Bernard Sackett, owner of the Lakeshore Brick and Stone company.

Sackett says he and the DeMorrow own the property off St. Joseph avenue, and he'll grant the village a sewer easement if the village rezones the property to industrial from residential so he can expand his business there.

"We have two or three other easements to get and we can get them through court proceedings. We are not going to bargain with anyone," Stampohar said.

Councilmen did move to formally request the easement from the DeMorrow's — the persons on record in the village as owners.

John Smietanka, village attorney, said obtaining the easement was only a matter of time and cost in court.

In a letter addressed to Stampohar, Harry Gast, Lincoln township supervisor, Earth, Inc., sewer contractors, and the Lake Michigan Shoreline Water and Sewage treatment authority, Sackett wrote that he would be willing to give an easement but under the circumstances he was reluctant to do so.

Sackett said he "would be very happy to sit down and discuss the matter."

Stampohar said, "The true facts are that the brickyard zoning change and the sewer easements are separate matters and they can both be turned over to the courts."

He added construction of the sewer line is progressing in other areas of the village. "I deplore the misrepresentation of fact and that the newspaper would print such a headline as 'Project At Stevensville Hits Brick Wall'."

Again referring to Sackett's statements, Stampohar said, "There is no minority vote that blocked a rezoning change on his property. It is a matter of record for his attorneys or him to see."

The brickyard battle has been waged since June 1967 when Sackett won council approval to have his four acres zoned industrial from residential. Over 150 residents of the area petitioned the council against the zone change so the council rezoned the property back to residential preventing Sackett from expanding his business.

In other action last night the council:

- Moved to join Baroda village and Baroda and Lake townships in the purchase of a $1,300 radar unit to be shared by each unit's police force.

- Hired Thomas Yops, Red Arrow highway, Stevensville, as part time policeman. He will also continue his work as a lieutenant for the Coloma township police.

- Directed Smietanka to seek information on why the village has two telephone companies servicing within its limits and what can be done to end the inconvenience.

- Set up a special ordinance study meeting for Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

BH Groups To Meet With Mayor

Four Benton Harbor neighborhood improvement clubs will meet with Mayor Wilbert Smith and city commissioners to discuss city problems on Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Mayor Smith set up the informal meeting after a letter signed by the club presidents was read before the city commission meeting Monday night.

The letter charged that real estate salesmen are working to contain Negroes in Benton Harbor and stated that the clubs have asked the National Association of Real Estate Boards to investigate real estate practices in the city.

A story in the Sept. 29 edition of this newspaper named only the chairman of the housing committee of the West Central Neighborhood Association; Louis Joseph of the Third Ward Block Improvement Club; Lula Lee of the Fourth Ward Neighborhood Organization and T. J. Carter for WCNO.

Presidents of four groups endorsed the letter. They included Ronald Ward, South Side Neighborhood Association; Louis Joseph of the Third Ward Block Improvement Club; Lula Lee of the Fourth Ward Neighborhood Organization and T. J. Carter for WCNO.

Mayor Smith said he, the city manager and hopefully all the city commissioners would informally discuss city problems and answer questions at the Oct. 13 session.

The meeting will be held at the Lake Michigan Catholic Middle school auditorium.

AT LMC

Area Police Recruit School Opens Monday

A basic police recruit training school, featuring instruction by federal and state police agencies and open free of charge to all new bonafide law enforcement officers in Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties, will begin Monday at Lake Michigan college.

State Sen. Charles O. Zollar, Benton Harbor, will open the four-week training program with a keynote address dealing with Senate Bill 1618 which requires that all new police officers in Michigan have 240 hours of training prior to active duty.

The recruit school each year is sponsored jointly by LMC and the Tri-County Law Enforcement Training Committee which is headed by Tom Gillespie, St. Joseph police chief. Benjamin J. Standen, LMC assistant dean for technologies, is coordinator of the 160-hour training plan. Classes meet from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on week days.

According to Standen, this year — the seventh since the program first started — the training will include first aid, police ethics, constitutional and criminal law, firearms, evidence, admissions and confessions, vice investigation, riot and crowd control, and other important law enforcement subjects.

Additional information about the program, which is to be taught in the Technical Center of the LMC Britain Avenue campus, can be obtained by telephoning the LMC Technologies office.

Vote Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee have fashioned an attractive election-year package for the 26 million Americans now receiving Social Security payments.

But to the dismay of some senators, particularly those running for re-election this year, it now appears the Senate will not vote on the package until after the Nov. 3 elections.

HONEYBEARS WON'T HIBERNATE: The Honeybears, a performing group of 12 St. Joseph high school girls, are scheduled to perform at the halftime of the Michiana Hawks football game Saturday at Buchanan. They made their debut at the Lakeshore-St. Joseph football game. The organization lost its affiliation at St. Joseph high school through a cutback of school sponsorship of student clubs so the girls raised their own funds for uniforms and persuaded Mrs. Bernadine Salvadore to serve as sponsor. They do their own choreography and their routines vary from pom pom to romantic to modern dance. ## Galloway Heads Association Again

Don Galloway, Stevensville, a Whirlpool sales executive, was re-elected president of the Grand Mere association this week in a meeting in the community room of the south branch of the St. Joseph Savings and Loan association.

Mrs. Dean Asselin, Shoreham, serving for Galloway on the Open Lands conference, held two weeks ago in Chicago, reported on formation of a four-state Lake Michigan federation, an organization designed to study ways and means to preserve Lake Michigan.

Open House Scheduled Sunday

An open house reception will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 Sunday afternoon for the staff members of the Twin Cities Area Child Care center, at the center at 650 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

Interested residents of the community are invited. Mrs. Claudette Hill, chairman for the event, said the purpose is to afford an opportunity for community residents and staff members to get acquainted.

Guests will be able to tour the facility and to view pictures of the children and staff members in daily activities. The center, opened Sept. 1, 1969, is licensed for 80 children.

Considerable interest among conservationists was evident. Mrs. Cupp reported on the ecological significance of the Grand Mere area. Numerous inquiries have been received from all parts of the country, Mrs. Cupp said.

Nature Conservancy seeks to buy lands for preservation. In 1970 lands worth $33,000,000 were acquired. Last year, Mrs. Cupp said, Nature Conservancy preserved over 62,000 acres of critical land.

Thomas W. Richards, president of the 22,000 member organization, said last year was the most successful in the 19 years the organization has been preserving nature areas. Areas preserved range from a quarter acre salt marsh in Connecticut to 333,000 acres for wildlife in Montana.

The Conservancy was involved in 133 projects in 23 states, Mrs. Cupp reported.

Quoting Paul D. Olson, head of the Wisconsin Nature Conservancy chapter, told the convention: "We're engaged in guerrilla warfare in a vast conspiracy against (industrial) progress. You don't hear too much about it because we are quiet about it. We are probably the least dramatic group in the whole ecology movement. No crusades, no protests. We don't do anything but preserve land."

Mrs. Cupp said field trips included a visit to "real prairie land." She noted that the "prairie does not contain any weeds, only grasses of many varieties, and wild flowers. Roots extend 30 feet deep."

A Wisconsin law caught Mrs. Cupp's interest. She said Wisconsin teachers must take a course in conservation before they are allowed to teach.

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources presented the Grand Mere association with two American chestnut trees for the Grand Mere Natural Study preserve. The only chestnut tree in the preserve died this year.

Robert Kerns, study preserve chairman, said more volunteer leaders are needed to conduct tours through the preserve. Seven groups have already made plans to visit the area in October.

SLATED SATURDAY

United Fund Youth To Hold Car Wash

The youth division of United Community Fund will hold its car wash tomorrow at four locations, and its members also are hoping to collect some items for the upcoming Oct. 16-17 UCF rummage sale.

"We hope that everyone will take advantage of the chance to have their cars washed for only $1 each and help UCF at the same time," said Miss Julie O'Mara, chairman of the UCF youth division. "And while they're at it, why not bring along some odds and ends to donate to our rummage sale?"

Tomorrow's car wash locations are: Mac's and Tom's Gulf Service, Fair avenue and Main street, Benton Harbor; the Lakeshore branch of Inter-City Bank, Cleveland avenue and John Beers road; the Hilltop Foods parking lot, Hilltop and Washington, St. Joseph; and the Plaza 66 station in the Fairplain Plaza.

Sanity Is Key Issue In Trial

BH Man Accused Of Murdering
Benton Officer

By BRANDON BROWN
Staff Writer

Two psychiatrists disagreed sharply Thursday on whether a 33-year-old Benton Harborite accused of slaying a Benton township police sergeant was responsible for his actions.

The split came on a key defense issue in the first degree murder trial of Earl Everett Harrison, accused of slaying Sgt. Robert Stevens with the officer's own revolver last April 29 in the Holmsted restaurant, Benton township.

The psychiatrists took opposing stands on whether Harrison meets two tests of insanity — whether he was capable of knowing what he was doing was wrong, and if so, whether he had the power to resist an impulse to commit the act.

Harrison's nonjury trial opened Wednesday but was recessed today because a defense witness would be unable to appear. Judge Julian Hughes, sitting as finder of fact as well as law, announced at the close of Thursday's session that trial will reconvene at 10 a.m. Saturday.

TELL OF SHOOTINGS

Prosecution witnesses said Wednesday in virtually unopposed testimony that Sgt. Stevens, 36, died from a bullet wound in the back inflicted by Harrison and that Harrison himself was felled by police bullets that shattered his left arm and struck him in the back.

On Thursday, Dr. Ames Roy, 41, director of the state center for forensic psychiatry at Ann Arbor, had testified for the defense that he believes Harrison acted under an irresistible impulse and likely did not know right from wrong.

Dr. Clarence M. Schrier, 61, superintendent of Kalamazoo State hospital, testified for the prosecution he believes Harrison knew right from wrong and that his actions were the result of "an irresistible impulse, not an irresistible impulse."

Both psychiatrists based their opinions on observations of Harrison within recent months and in Dr. Robey's case on extensive tests, reports and background histories.

Dr. Schrier and Robey, and Dr. Gerhardt A. Hein, 37, a staff psychiatrist under Dr. Robey, agree Harrison was and still is dangerously mentally ill and will need extensive, even lifelong treatment.

They and David L. Shapiro, 27, assistant director of the forensic center's psychology department, also believe Harrison's account that before the slaying he suffered auditory hallucinations or voices in his head telling him to kill in order to obtain a body as a "ticket" to a pleasant, golden planet where his brain had been taken.

Harrison's sister, Mrs. Madge Young, of 732 North Pike street, Benton township, testified Wednesday for Defense Atty. Charles LaSala that Harrison tele-

Crews Win Decision On Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP) — Pilots and stewardesses in Michigan employed by United Air Lines are entitled to unemployment benefits for a month they were laid off in 1966, the State Appeals Court has held.

The appeals court verdict reversed a ruling of the State Employment Security Commission Appeal Board.

The plaintiffs were laid off for the month during July and August of 1966 because of a strike by ground personnel of the airline.

The employment appeal board had ruled they were precluded from receiving unemployment compensation because they and the strikers were employed by the same establishment.

The appeals court said flight personnel constitute a work force separate from the ground employees.

Plans have been announced for construction of a gymnasium at the Edith B. Garrett Seventh-day Adventist elementary school in Fairplain.

According to Elder G. William Benton, pastor of the Colfax Seventh-day Adventist church, construction of the 100 by 60 foot structure is set to begin next spring with completion in time for classes when they resume that fall.

The gymnasium will adjoin the existing structure on a recently purchased parcel of land, Elder Benton said. In addition to providing recreational facilities for the students, the new gymnasium will be available for social activities and community meetings.

Now in its 40th year of operation, the school, at 140 Seneca drive, enrolls 98 students in grades one through eight. Students other than Seventh-day Adventists are accepted for enrollment but all students are expected to participate in Bible classes and religious services.

The staff consists of four full-time and two part-time teachers. Principal Ralph E. Williams teaches seventh and eighth grades. Other teachers are Mrs. Philip Wadzinski, grades one and two; Miss Carole Myers, grades three and four; and James Howard, grades five and six. Mrs. Robert Hunt teaches music to all grades and Mrs. Fredrick Taylor teaches home economics to junior high students.

NO TAX FUNDS
The school operates on student tuition, which meets about half of the costs, and by subsidy from the Colfax Seventh-day Adventist church, no state or federal money is accepted for operation, equipment or salaries.

Merle VandeWarker is chairman of the board for the fifth consecutive year.

AEC Delays
Palisades
Hearing

KALAMAZOO — The Atomic Energy commission has agreed to delay for one week the resumption of the hearing on licensing of a nuclear power plant in Covert township.

The hearing was scheduled to resume Monday but under the decision has been delayed until Oct. 12, upon the request of intervening conservationists.

The conservationists requested the delay because their chief counsel, Myron Cherry of Chicago, was unable to attend due to other commitments.

Hearings on the licensing began in June. The $125 million plant is awaiting clearance to begin test operations.

Coloma Teens Seek
Building For Dances

COLOMA — Prospects for dances sponsored by the Coloma Youth group this year look dim unless needed space is found in the Coloma area.

Tom LeVanway, 18, of Coloma, president of the group said he and his officers have been unable to locate a building with room for 150 couples. But he said they haven't given up yet. Last year's dances were held at the Coloma township hall on Paw Paw road, but this year due to overcrowded classrooms in the school district the upper floor has been converted into two classrooms.

For the past year, the group has held dances nearly every weekend, either Friday or Saturday nights, to offer youth some recreation.

The idea to hold dances was started by LeVanway's brother, Mike, and was aimed at alleviating a problem of youths congregating at night in downtown Coloma.

According to LeVanway, the dances were well accepted by the teens of the Coloma area.

Officers of the group are LeVanway, Glenn Hewitt, vice-president; Julie Kolenko, treasurer; and Roxann Becht, secretary. All attend Coloma high school.

Persons knowing of a building that can be used for holding dances can contact LeVanway at the township police department where he is employed as a dispatcher on weekends.

Candidate
Off Ballot;
Files Suit

DETROIT (AP) — A $100 million damage suit has been filed in federal court in Detroit by the American Independent Party's nominee for state attorney general charging he has been barred illegally from the November ballot.

The suit was filed by Eugene May, who seeks reinstatement on the ballot. He has demanded $25 million in compensation and $75 million in punitive damages.

May was ordered scratched from the Nov. 3 ballot when Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley advised election officials that May was ineligible for the post because he is not an attorney.

Kelley said that May "would not be qualified to perform the duties of his office if he were not qualified to practice law." Kelley conceded, however, that the State Constitution does not require attorney general candidates to be lawyers.

Named as defendants in the suit were the State of Michigan; Kelley; Bernard Apol, state elections director; and William Farr Jr., the Republican candidate for attorney general.

May alleges in the suit that Kelley, Apol and Farr "embarked on a scheme, acting in concert between themselves, to deprive (May) of his civil rights."

He charges that Farr slandered him when the GOP candidate called May's candidacy "a cynical mockery" at a news conference last month.

U.S. District Judge Damon Keith set a hearing on the suit for next Tuesday.

Milliken Urges
Disaster Area
Designation

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has asked U.S. Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin to designate as disaster areas for livestock the northern Michigan counties of Benzie, Grand Traverse and Manistee.

The request, sent Thursday, seeks aid under the emergency livestock feed program.

Farmers who qualify under the program can buy surplus grain at reduced prices.

Consumers Power Asks
Gas Customer Ban

Consumers Power company has asked the state for authorization to refuse the sale of natural gas to new customers and impose restrictions on additional sales to industrial and commercial customers because of a gas shortage.

Company officials made the request Thursday to the Michigan Public Service commission saying the demands for additional natural gas has outstripped prospective supplies from companies who supply gas to distribution firms such as Consumers.

Consumer's service extends into parts of southwestern Michigan, including Hartford, Decatur, Lawrence, Bangor and Paw Paw.

Ron McCormack, vice president for public relations at Michigan Gas Utilities Company, said it isn't known yet if his firm's service will have to be restricted in the Twin Cities area.

Michigan Gas serves most of southwestern Michigan and generally covers the Twin Cities area.

"There is a shortage with every gas company in the county and we're making a study now of our services in the state," McCormack said. "We have an adequate supply for customers we already have but there is a question if we can take on new customers."

He indicated the company would release a statement Monday or Tuesday next week on its service.

Consumer's present customers will not be affected by the restrictions, according to officials.

They blamed unrealistic federal pricing policies for the past decade for the shortage of new gas reserves. "The pricing has discouraged producing companies from prospecting new reserves to ultimately be sold to Consumers and other distribution utilities," the company announcement read.

"Our gas supply is sufficient to meet requirements of existing customers at their present levels of use. Effective immediately the company will maintain records of customer applications for new or additional service," said company spokesmen.

threatened shortage. Future plants, he said, could be delayed until the pollution question is settled.

Ward said the Consumer's plant proposal had been approved by the state in 1966 and no objections had been raised then regarding pollution or effect on the lake's ecology.

Ward was interviewed while here for an address before advertising agencies and their representatives from public service utilities from across the state. The agencies opened a three-day conference here Wednesday night.

$100,000

Judgment Is Upheld By Appeal Court

LANSING (AP) — The State appeals court has upheld a $100,000 judgment to a Mount Pleasant woman who contended she suffered permanent damages from breathing fumes of a toilet bowl cleaner nine years ago.

"While the verdict was high it cannot be said to shock the judicial conscience," the court said.

Mrs. Julia Shirley won the award after a jury trial before Isabella County Circuit Judge Robert Campbell.

The medical diagnosis was that Mrs. Shirley suffered from acute bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

The appeals court rejected eight charges of error in the trial claimed by Dracket Products Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. Shirley was taken to the hospital after she inhaled the fumes in December, 1961.

The appeals court said Mrs. Shirley "is still under medication and is unable to engage in the physical activities she was formerly capable of."

Previously, the court said, Mrs. Shirley was active in community affairs, was a housemother at Central Michigan University and was a hospital employee.

Court records showed Mrs. Shirley spent 122 days in the hospital.

Maritime Bill Nears
PassageSeaway Placed
On Equal Footing
As 4th Seacoast

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long-time dream of turning the Great Lakes into a thriving "fourth major seacoast" may be fulfilled under a far-reaching maritime bill on the verge of passage by Congress.

With its complex tax subsidies, tax breaks, and debt-forgiving features, officials say, the bill should clear the way for revitalizing the sagging shipping industry on the lakes.

"It puts the lakes on an equal footing with the other three coasts," said Robert J. Blackwell, assistant administrator of the Maritime Administration. "It could be a turning point."

BOOSTS GREAT LAKES
The bill is primarily designed to rebuild the nation's merchant marine fleet but amendments adopted in the House and Senate expanded it to give a big boost to Great Lakes shipping.

The key provision appears to be opening a lucrative tax loophole to Great Lakes shipping companies, allowing them to defer corporate income tax payments in turn for pledges to put the money into a special fund for new ship construction.

The hope is that the tax deferral provision will encourage new capital and more ships in the Great Lakes industry, Blackwell said.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said the tax break and a provision forgiving millions of dollars of interest owed by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to the U.S. Treasury "should be a boon to shipping on the lakes."

It was Mondale who won passage of an amendment canceling future interest payments owed by the seaway, as well as $22.4 million deferred interest charges.

What it means is that the seaway, built 11 years ago by the United States and Canada to step up shipping to the heart of the continent, will now be on a sound financial footing, Mondale said.

It will thus not have to raise its tolls and will be in a better position competitively to attract more shipping, the senator added.

The bill specifically designates the Great Lakes as the nation's "fourth major seacoast," a provision Mondale said puts the Maritime Administration under a positive obligation to try to assure more U.S. flag ship service on the lakes.

Now, Mondale's office said, only four U.S. shipping lines operate on the lakes. Compared with companies operating at other ports, the federal subsidies they receive are a drop in the bucket, the senator's office added.

The maritime bill has been approved by House-Senate conferees and a final vote in both houses may come next week.

Candidate Calls For
LMC Citizens' Panel

Seeking improved communications at Lake Michigan college, Joseph Drolen, a candidate for the college board of trustees, has recommended the formation of a citizens advisory committee.

The committee idea, stemming largely from student grievances last spring, would be used to gather information on issues and problems and make recommendations to the college president and board. It would be advisory in nature.

Drolen's recommendation was made this week during a talk before the Berrien chapter of Michigan Township Supervisors in St. Joseph township hall.

Drolen has been critical of the college administration's handling of the student strike and told his gathering that "We have had an administration by crises throughout the years."

Drolen, 50, is running for one of two trustee posts to be filled in the November election. He is running as a teammate with Richard B. Gates, 24, Drolen is production manager at Birch Printing Co. and resides at 2931 South Lakeshore drive, St. Joseph.

Gates is vice-president of Ned Gates Chevrolet and resides at 445 Ridgeway, St. Joseph.

Voicing concern over student unrest, Drolen said:

"Where young people seek creativity, we demand conformity. When they seek independence, we respond with more discipline. When they ask for supportive action from us, our reaction is a 'put-down.' When they try for open, frank discussion, we invoke closure and cut-off. When they become deeply involved in their own untidy learning processes, we apply increased administrative efficiencies."

While speaking with pride over physical development of the LMC plant, Drolen emphasized that the citizens advisory committee is essential now. He continued:

"This year, the mood on campuses throughout the country is one of apprehension and fear of intimidation. Our daughter entered LMC this fall. Now, if I am to believe the recent inflammatory statements of irresponsible politicians in high places, I must regard our daughter as a potential public enemy, the enemy of all the working men in mid-America."

To resolve the matter of improved communications Drolen said:

"... I propose the immediate appointment of a citizens advisory committee for internal development, per guidelines outlined in the administrators' procedures handbook."

FULLER PARTICIPATION
"Committee members will hear administrators, teachers, students, taxpayers, outside experts and educational and community leaders for the purpose of developing recommendations to the President and the Board in the area of creating greater interdependence and fuller participation by all engaged in the learning and educational processes at Lake Michigan College."

Drolen and Gates are seeking board seats held by Atty. Robert Small of Benton Harbor, board chairman; and Beryl Dornay of New Buffalo. Small is seeking re-election, while Dornay did not seek re-election. Other candidates are Mrs. Gertha Robbins of Benton township and Mrs. Octavia Hawkins of Covert.

Top Democrats Plan
Busy Days In Berrien

Democratic candidates for the offices of governor and secretary of state will visit Berrien county on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

State Senator Sander Levin will make several stops in the county on Tuesday on behalf of his candidacy for governor.

Monday will see an all-day tour of the county by Richard Austin, the party's standard-bearer for secretary of state.

NEWS CONFERENCE
Levin's arrival Tuesday will be at the Democratic headquarters at the Hornack hotel in Benton Harbor 3 p.m. Following a news conference, he will tour the Fairplain Plaza shopping center.

At 4:30 p.m. Levin will be met by party members from the New Buffalo - Three Oaks-Union Pier area at the Sawyer truck stop for a tour through their area.

After another 6 p.m. press conference and cocktail hour at Scott's restaurant in New Buffalo, the gubernatorial candidate will be the speaker at a fund-raising dinner at the same location at 7 p.m. Tickets for the dinner are available from Mabel Payne and Edna Kanger. Chairman of the event is James Keller.

BUSY SCHEDULE

Austin will bring his secretary of state campaign into the county Monday, starting with an 8:30 a.m. Dutch-treat breakfast at Ramada inn, followed by visits to Lake Michigan college and the Democratic headquarters in downtown Benton Harbor. He will attend a luncheon meeting at the Holiday Inn in Niles, and return to the Twin Cities in time to greet employees at the Auto Specialties plant gate in St. Joseph between 3 and 4 p.m.

Austin's busy itinerary calls for him next to meet students and other interested persons at Andrews university, Berrien Springs, for a question and answer period. From 7 to 8

Pollution
Suits Filed
Against 3

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County prosecutor's office has filed suits against three Detroit-area companies under a new and unique Michigan law which permits courts to order defendants to cease polluting the environment instead of merely imposing fines.

Named in the suits were a Chrysler Corp. foundry in Detroit; McLouth Steel Corp.'s plant in Trenton; and the Edw. C. Levy Co., a slag processing company in Dearborn.

Dr. George E. Pickett, City-County Public Health Director, said the three plants present "substantial and dangerous levels of air pollution."

The law, which was passed early this year and went into effect Thursday, for the first time allows suits by prosecutors or citizens against alleged polluters without the complainant necessarily having to prove he was directly harmed by the alleged pollution.

Under the former law, Pickett said that authorities were usually limited to filing in criminal court against alleged polluters. Upon conviction, only minor fines would result.

But, Pickett said, under the new law, a civil suit may result in a judge's "dictating a plan of action and setting of a time span when that plan will have to be completed" to end the pollution.

He said if a judge ordered a company to clean up its facilities and the company refused, the strong judicial powers including contempt of court citations could be used.

Spokesmen for the three companies named in the suits had no comment.

TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

LANSING (AP) — A truck carrying methyl bromide poisonous gas caught on fire Thursday, lying on traffic for several hours on M-66 south of Lansing. Little of the cargo was lost and there were no injuries. An overhauled fire was believed the cause of the blaze.

Defendants Banished From Court

By JINDA DEUTSCH
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles Manson and his three women co-defendants have been banished from the courtroom for taunting the judge in the Sharon Tate murder trial.

The trial was ordered reconvened today with the four listening to proceedings over a loudspeaker in an adjoining room.

Their outburst came late in an already lively court session Thursday in which the chief prosecutor, Vincent F. Bugliosi, was found in contempt of court for shouting at Manson's attorney. He was fined $50.

Suddenly, Manson shifted in his seat at the counsel table and broke into a chorus of "The Old Gray Mare Ain't What She Used To Be."

The hippie-type clan leader then told Superior Court Judge Charles H. Oliver: "Judge, you're a woman," and repeated it several times.

Ordered to be silent, Manson replied, "You've ordered me to stop living." He recited several old complaints—not enough pencils in jail, missing mail, not enough time with his attorney. The judge then ordered him out of court.

Attorneys had a conference with the judge in his chambers and Manson was readmitted.

Facing spectators and newsmen, Manson loudly proclaimed, "I'd like everyone to know I am not represented in this trial. I do not have any attorney. I am not allowed to speak for myself."

At that, the three long-haired brunettes beside him began a sing-song chanting: "The judge is a woman, the judge is a woman... The judge is a joke."

Order ordered all defendants removed. The three girls laughed and shouted taunts as they were led out. One cried: "Your wife's in the front row telling you what to do."

'FAILS TO ACT'

Farr Levels Political Guns On Kelley

LANSING (AP) — William Farr, the Republican candidate for attorney general, has criticized Democratic incumbent Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley on the grounds he failed to act on a request for an opinion on the eligibility of strikers for welfare benefits.

Farr said the opinion was asked last June by the State Department of Social Services but Kelley has as yet failed to respond.

"This is just another example of Kelley abandoning his responsibility to protect his own personal political ambitions," Farr said.
